

MHC baseline advantage over nearest neighbour

Leave-one-allele-out · 75 alleles · nonzero-half-life Spearman

- Baseline Spearman – nearest-neighbour Spearman
- Linear trend: ordinary least squares, equal weight per allele

Above zero: baseline performs better. Below zero: nearest neighbour performs better.
Baseline averages five seeds. The trendline is descriptive; each allele has equal weight.